Marko Gavrilovic was born in 1975 Belgrade, Serbia. He graduated at the Academy of Applied Arts and Design in 2001.

As a student he was the youngest artist working with 'A Gallery', specialized exclusively in watercolor. Along with prominent names of Serbian watercolor art, he was invited to make a piece that celebrates 800 years from the founding of Monastery Hilandar, on the Holly Mountain in Greece.

International exhibition that followed "Visit to the Holly Mountain" was a great success and became a part of permanent collection of city Kareja.

In the years that followed, he practiced acrylics, sculpture, design, illustration and drawing.

Notus Light studio was founded in 2002 where in cooperation with his team, Gavrilovic created more than 200 light – designed pieces during the years.

His specialties are plastic sculptural lighting forms, which ultimately led him to the point where Art and Design cross their paths.

He is a member of Association of Applied Arts Artists and Designers of Serbia and received prize in 2013 for 60 years of founding ULUPUDS for best in show exhibition.

His artworks are in many private collections throughout the World. Gavrilovic represented Serbia at the International Global 2010 Fine Art Exhibition for the FIFA World Cup, art event dedicated to lovers of art and sport.

In 2015, he represented Serbia at Milan EXPO with his light installation "Circle of Light".
